Javier is a Senior Manager in Tax Advisory Services Group's Indirect Tax and Tax Technology practice. His focus is in the area of indirect tax advisory, tax process automation and tax system implementation. Javier has over fifteen years of experience in indirect tax and information technology solution delivery.

Javier possesses unique combination of leadership and expertise in industry and technology. He has been continually recognized as a top performer and leader, for excellence in execution, leadership, innovation, and business acumen. He demonstrates unique ability to adapt to demanding and ambiguous situations. Embraces new challenges and thrives on learning and teaching. Manages client expectations effectively and proactively, and maintains the highest level of customer satisfaction.

Javier's specific business expertise is focused on the downstream petroleum industry, in the areas of global indirect tax determination and supply chain management. He possesses expert-level knowledge of motor fuel excise tax in the U.S.A. and Canada, including the complexities of interstate commerce; advanced knowledge of sales/use tax in the U.S.A. and Canadian GST/HST and intermediate knowledge of European VAT and European excise duties on petroleum products.

Prior to joining Tax Advisory Services Group, Javier was a Knowledge Management Director at FuelQuest. Prior to FuelQuest, Javier worked for Arthur Andersen where his main focus was Motor Fuel Tax advisory and technology solutions delivery.
